LETTERS FOR WILLIAMSON'S PENNY-POST,

ARE taken in by himſelf, ſign of the Lanthorn, eaſt end of the Luckenbooths, where Letters are diſpatched eight times every day to Leith, and as often from thence to Edinburgh and Suburbs; Letters circulating within the City, and at a moderate diſtance, are delivered every hour, and oftener.

ALL Letters delivered by Williamſon's Penny-Poſt are marked with a round ſtamp, Paid, or, Not Paid; and except they are ſo diſtinguiſhed by their marks upon the backs of the letters, the receiver is hereby authoriſed to detain them, and not to pay the perſon who delivers them.

The publiſher has paid all the attention he poſſibly could, to render the Penny-Poſt uſeful and beneficial to the public.—But he is ſorry to ſay, he has been greatly diſappointed by the oppoſition he has of late met with, from ſome perſons who make it their ſtudy to blaſt that ſcheme altogether, by keeping up letters which they themſelves were to deliver, and afterwards putting them in to ſome of his offices; when they could not find out the perſon to whom they were directed; and from others who will not go to the diſtant corners of the ſuburbs with a ſingle letter for a penny; and after keeping it up for ſome time, though they ſhould promiſe to deliver it, it is depoſited in one or other of his offices, by unknown hands;—he thought it duty due to himſelf and the public to give this hint, that thoſe who have letters intended for his office be attentive to whom they give them to be carried there.

Juſt publiſhed and ſold by P. Williamſon, at his Penny-poſt-office, Luckenbooths, printed on Writing Paper,
